A ROUND OF TALK.

The Old Ox Team.

Full fifty years have passed, and yet, amid the city's noise and fret, With wistful feelings of regret I do remember still The quiet farm I used to love, Its sunlit fields so sweet to rove, And, best of all, the days I drove Its old ox-team to mill.

Al, those happy days, I ween! And fresh and beautiful and green, And all the long space between Seems nothing now and fades away. And lo, a barefoot boy and gay, And lord of all my eyes survey, I mount that lumbering cart!

O-ho, how royally we go! And how the cows look round and lope, As if to tell us that they know "The secret of our quest!"

Out, out, along the orchard lane, And up the hills at last, where, faint Spite whip and goad, my stubborn twain Would stop awhile and rest.

And feeling very much a man, And busineslike, the road I scan, Then take my whip and turn. Homeward—and slower then we came!

But not too slow, for still the same Bright summer skies, with joy aflame, Above us softly burn.

Yes, slow and sleepily we went, And yet, how careless and content! Oh, would those hours were still unspent.

Aan this land, restless mart, Which grows so wearisome and sad, Were dreams itself—and I the lad Who to be, supremely glad!

Within that old ox-cart—Yonh's Companion!

THE STATE FAIR—The State Fair for Kentucky as pulled off at Louisville was a success in its main features.

"Financially it was a big success, as the gate receipts far exceeded the expenses. The attendance for each day was record-breaking, and certainly every county in the state was well represented."

In fact the crowd was made up of people from out in the state. With the exception of the crowd of race track followers, who were attracted by the racing feature, the Louisville people did not appear to bother themselves about attending the fair.

The business men were evidently too busily engaged in reaping the benefit of the presence of the country buyers in their midst to spare the time to attend the fair, and the Louisville ladies, especially those of the "P. O. R. Hand," probably could not endure to be jostled in such a rough crowd.

And one was certainly "jostled" who attended the State Fair this year. The rain and mud made it disagreeable, and while the common quarters of Churchill Downs are ordinarily adequate to accommodate the crowds they were not equal to the occasion on two or three of the days.

The show of live stock was certainly of high order and the management of the fair deserves credit for getting together such a fine collection of horses, cattle and other live stock.

There was one feature of the fair, however, which we believe could well be eliminated without resulting in any loss to the attraction. We speak of the race gambling features as it was carried on this year. We understand that this is not to be a permanent feature of the State Fair and was permitted this year as a concession to the Louisville Jockey Club as part of the consideration for use of the grounds.

The object of the State Fair is to promote the live stock breeding interests and to bring together in friendly competition the best specimens of stock. The state is well supplied with race track gambling in the three or four race meetings held in Louisville every year.

Kentucky should have permanent quarters for her stock fair and should eliminate the book betting feature. Louisville seems to be the best location on account of its accessibility and advantages for handling the crowd.

LOCAL OPTION TERRITORY—Since last Monday Springfield and all of Washington county is local option territory.

insofar as the law as regards the shipping of liquor into the county is concerned. The saloons will be allowed to run and to sell liquor until their licenses run out, which will be in some cases almost a year yet, but they will be restricted about receiving their supplies from other points. According to several recent decisions on the point the saloonkeepers are not permitted to receive liquor from the railroads or any other common carrier, but may go after it and haul it themselves. That was the point made at Harrodsburg recently when a saloonkeeper was forbidden to receive liquor by common carrier.

Starving to Death

Because her stomach was so weakened by unskillful drugging that she could eat, Mrs. Mary H. Walters, of St. Clair St., Columbus, O., was literally starving to death. She writes: "My stomach was so weak from useless drugs that I could not eat, and my nerves so wrecked that I could not sleep; and not before I was given to die was I induced to try Electric Bitters, with the wonderful result that improvement began at once, and a complete cure followed." Best health tonic on earth. 50c. Guaranteed by C. J. Hayden, druggist.

The John H. Sparks' Shows

People who have vainly endeavored to extract satisfaction from the big three ring shows, will be surprised and delighted at the amount of keen enjoyment to be had in witnessing the one ring performance given by the Sparks' Shows come to Springfield October 4th. Everything will be plainly visible to all, one first class act following another, and presented with a careful attention to detail that is impossible with the big shows. The costumes are elegant and costly, the music especially fine, and nothing is omitted that could add to the pleasure and enjoyment of the patrons.

"Once more the audience is brought in touch with the real 'old clowns,' and his songs and funny sayings can be heard and appreciated. This is Sparks' 'logic of facts'."

Taxpayers Notice.

Your taxes for 1906 are now due and the penalty will go on Nov. 1. Under the new law which recently went into effect, after November 1st your taxes can not be paid to me and a tax warrant will be issued against you by the county clerk and executed within ten days thereafter making an additional cost to you of 15 per cent. Come before Nov. 1, and save cost of execution and sale. J. S. Osborne, Sheriff of W. C.

WANTED—School, having new attractive proposition, wishes energetic man or woman to visit towns in Kentucky. Good salary and expenses paid weekly. Some knowledge of music preferred, but not essential. J. H. Moore, Plymouth Place, Chicago, Ill.

Election Booths.

Combination blackboards and election booths may be used by the State Committee in the State primary. It will be necessary to buy a large number of special booths, as the regular booths will be used in the regular election on the same day as the Democratic primary. The subcommittee in charge of the primary has a sample booth, which is of the "folding bed" order, not being what it seems. To all outward appearances it is a black-board of the usual variety, hanging on the wall. By releasing some catches the front folds downward and exposes a number of hinged doors and curtains. These can be attached so that two booths of the regular size can be made. A shelf is to be used by the voter while stamping his ballot, while a curtain protects him from the sight of those outside. The sample in the committee headquarters is small but the committee is well pleased with the way it works and probably will adopt it as the official booth for the primary. The idea is to have the booth serve some other purpose when not in use as a booth. In the country districts the booths could be used in the school-houses during the winter sessions, instead of being stored away and used once each year.—Danville News.

To Breathe of Life.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right organs right should be man's chief study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. O. A. Stephens of Port Williams, O., has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. O, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by C. J. Hayden, druggist. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

Notice to Farmers.

Now is the time to begin to use Bourbon Hog Cholera Remedy, if you want to keep your hogs free from disease. We will send you a gallon of this remedy, you can use it for three days and if it does not keep your hogs in perfect health during this time, you need not pay for the medicine. Let this be the fairest proposition you ever heard of. Costs only 5 cts. per gallon for each hog and its extra gain in flesh caused from its use more than pays for the cost of the remedy. C. J. Hayden, Springfield, Ky.

The Lexington Trols.

Commence Tuesday, Oct. 2, and continue for two weeks. Every day over more of the historic stakes are contested, and the races are filled with the sensational horses from all sections, meeting at Lexington for the first time this year. The entry list is the largest on record, and Kentucky's Great Trols will be the best ever known. Excursion rates of one fare for the round trip will be in force from all Kentucky points. The best horses, music and races ever known in Kentucky will be the attractions. Remember the dates, Oct. 2-13, and attend.

No one would say a salibout with sails that could not be reefed. There is always that possibility of too much wind that makes a cautious man afraid to go aboard. ## Kentucky Ahead.

According to the latest tabulation of the statistics of the department of agriculture—considering only States having 1,000,000 or more acreage of corn—Kentucky leads them all with 100 per cent. Ohio coming next with 99 and Arkansas third with

Pale, Thin, Nervous?

Then your blood must be in a very bad condition. You certainly know what to take, then take it—Ayer's Sarsaparilla. If you doubt, then consult your doctor. We know what he will say about this grand old family medicine.

This is the first question your doctor would ask you to go aboard. 97. For ten years preceding, Kentucky's annual average was 84, exceeded only by Ohio with an average of 85. Virginia with 87 and Indian Territory with 99. North Carolina, Texas, Alabama and Tennessee show up with fine averages for the past ten years in corn, and makes the sowing that corn is creeping southward in its search for a broader domain, and that unless King Cotton looks well to his sceptre, the Southland, itself, will wrest it from him and give it over to the plumed monarch of the lurched field.

Boyle county will surely average 100 percent according to her acreage, as the crop in this section is the heaviest in years. She will the State wonderfully in securing the above honors.

Man Past Sixty in Danger

More than half of mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlarge ment of prostate gland. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Burnett, Rockport Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure I feel better than I have for twenty years, although I am now 61 years old." Sold at the Red Cross Drug store.

Great Success

Mack Hughes, the Danville horseman, has had great success at the fair this year. To his credit he has ninety-six blue ribbons and quite a number of rosettes. He started out with seven horses and had such good luck that four were sold. The other three were anxiously sought by eager buyers looking for high class stock, but their owners refused to part with them. Lady Gray, the very fine three year-old, belonged to Mr. Charles Worthington, of this county, took seventeen blue ribbons, and is considered one of the finest young individuals in the state.

Merced King, owned by Joe Brown, of Harrodsburg, to k twenty-two blues and one red, was Leachman's choice, owned by Beverly Leachman, of Springfield, took nine blues, Mr. Hughes is becoming an expert as a handler of horses, and probably outclassed all other Cent at Kentucky exhibitors in the fair rings this season.—Danville Herald.

Negro Shot.

Luid Muir, alias "Dr. Thomas," and Harrison Cox last Friday engaged in an altercation over some personal matters in the rear of a saloon on Main street, which resulted in Muir shooting Cox twice with 22 Smith & Wesson revolver. One of the shots took effect in Cox's left elbow, the other in one of his hips. It is said that Muir claims that Cox was advancing on him with a knife when he fired in self defense. It is not thought that the wounds will prove fatal. The parties are colored and in well known quarters. The date for Muir's examining trial has been fixed for the 29th inst.—Ky. Standard.

Next Tuesday will be registration day and all voters residing in the city limits of Springfield, who desire to vote at the November election, will be required to register.

The finest corn we have seen this year consisted of a dozen ears presented to us by Mr. Oscar Walker. The ears are 14 and 15 inches long and very finely developed. We expect those twelve ears of corn to furnish the winter's food for our horse, cow and a hundred chickens.

Miss Zelma Hardesty, daughter of Mr. Sam Hardesty, formerly of this county, but who has been living at Lebanon for about three years, was married at that place Tuesday to Mr. Ad Gibson, of Perryville. The bride has many friends in this county who wish her much happiness.

The business house on Main street occupied by C. W. Hagan, the grocery man and, owned by Mr. Frank Wall, of Louisville, was sold at public sale last Monday. The building was purchased by Mr. T. J. Graves and the price paid was $2300.

Dr. J. B. Robards won the special trotting race pulled off at Lebanon Tuesday afternoon with his fast roadster "Skidoo". He beat a crack mare brought on from Chicago by Vessrs. Dohoney & Phillips. Dr. Robards' horse, although a green horse which he had been driving on the road for several months, has developed phenomenal speed.

S. M. Campbell reports the public sale of Sylvester Smith on the 23d as being very well attended and everything sold fairly well, 1 sow and 8 small pigs at $25; six stock shots at $7.40 per head, five fat shots at about 6c per pound. Reports our county court day as being largely attended, many mule coats sold from $35 to $115 per head. Only a few cattle on the market, cattle about 15c per cent better than 30 days ago.

There will be a change in the firm of McElroy & Shultz to take effect Jan. 1, 1907. Mr. McElroy desiring to retire from business has sold his interest to his partner, Mr. Shultz. McElroy & Shultz have been doing business together for about fifteen years and the firm is a popular one and the business has prospered, as it will no doubt continue to do under the management of Mr. Shultz.

A Farmers' Institute is being conducted at the Court House this place by Commissioner of Agriculture Hubert Vreeland and a corps of lecturers. There was only a handful of farmers to attend yesterday although the lectures are both interesting and instructive and entirely free. Washington county farmers are standing greatly in their own light when they don't take advantage of these opportunities to learn improved methods. The lectures will continue today and in our next issue we will endeavor to give a fuller report.

An Owensboro paper gives an account of the annual meeting and reorganization of the Daviess County Distilling Co., at which Mr. George E. Medley of this place was elected president and Thos. A. Medley, secretary and treasurer. Ben Medley succeeded in the position of distiller. It is now two years since Mr. George Medley became interested in the enterprise and the business has proven exceptionally prosperous. Mr. D. Merschenhoff, of Louisville, whom Mr. Medley succeeded as president will still remain in the directory of the company.

PATTERN HAT DISPLAY

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY
OCTOBER 5 and 6.

The ladies of Springfield and vicinity are cordially invited. Each purchaser of Pattern Hat on Opening days will be presented with a Gold Hat Pin.

Mrs. Williams

At a congregational meeting Sunday evening, after the regular services at the Presbyterian church, the resignation of Rev. T. D. Latimer was formally accepted. According to the expressed desire of Dr. Latimer, the church joined him in asking the Transylvania Presbytery to dissolve his relationship as pastor of the church, and a resolution to that effect was adopted. Mr. W. F. Keirik was appointed delegate by the Session of the Church to Presbytery, and commissioned by the church to present the resolution and acceptance of the resignation of the pastor to Presbytery which convened Tuesday at Houstonville.

The congregation of the Christian church met Sunday afternoon and unanimously agreed to retain Rev. Walden as pastor for the ensuing year, and he was urged to continue his pastoral relationship with the church, but withheld his final decision for further consideration. Rev. Walden has been pastor of the Christian church two years and has endeavored himself to win an enviable place in the estimation of the community at large. Should he be retained as pastor, he will be a great help to the church.
